Taft's Return Is a Necessity

The return of Robert A. Taft to the U. S. senate is a major necessity. Not only because he has earned recognition as its best informed member but because of the political situation his candidacy has brought. The Democrats have a candidate for the office, but Taft's opposition is not the Democratic party but vicious outside interests that are spending millions of dollars to defeat him. In the light of that single fact the re-election of the senate comes a necessity—not only to continue his intelligent, wise and forthright service in the senate but to preserve the right of the people of any state to do their own thinking and to choose their own legislators. The situation should stir every citizen to vote for Taft and to do his utmost to see that everybody else does. Freedom of action without pressure from any group is a precious American principle, of action without pressure from any group is a precious American principle, and it must be preserved. A vote for Taft is an expression of belief in that principle.

Fess a Valuable Man in Assembly

By inheritance, training and experience Lowell Fess is fitted to render superior service to the people of Greene county in the state legislature. He has been doing it for enough years for the people to recognize his concern and his wisdom and to see them demonstrated. Not only does Lowell Fess' past service as a representative of the county in the general assembly warrant his reelection, but he deserves the honor of being returned by a pleased public. We need such men as Lowell Fess in public life.

Brown Has Become National Figure

No district is better represented in congress than the seventh district of Ohio, and no congressman does a better job serving the interests of his constituents and the people of the nation than does Clarence J. Brown, its representative. From his youth up he has been a student. He has served in positions efficiently and fully. He knows what is going on, why it is going on, and about causes and effects. He has earned national recognition for that ability. He is one of the best speakers in Washington, and does high honor to the people of his home district as their servant in the house and as their spokesman for causes of good government and national and international policies. A vote to continue "Brown of Ohio" in the position he holds honors both the congressman and the voter.

Ebright Has Won State's Approval

Because of a recognition for ability that he has earned over a period of service to Ohio, Don Ebright has ridden political storms that have at times dashed the hopes of other Republican candidates. It is no accident that Don Ebright is popular with Ohio voters, and it will be no surprise to find on Nov. 7 that he is even more popular than he has ever been. He is an earnest, honest, capable, experienced public servant and will bring to the governor's intelligence and a deep desire to serve. It is impossible to give a reason for not voting for Don Ebright for governor, but very easy to assign a number of reasons for voting for him. He has earned the promotion as a good and faithful servant.

Fudge Is a Must For Local Voters

Myron R. Fudge MUST be elected a member of the board of county commissioners. We say that only because he is our neighbor, a very estimable gentleman and an active citizen, a successful farmer and stockman, but because the board needs his intelligence and wisdom. Myron Fudge heads the Memorial hospital commission. Matters concerning it and others of vital importance will be coming up. To honor him as a good neighbor whom we respect and admire we MUST all make sure we go to the polls and VOTE FOR HIM and be active in promoting his candidacy. His majority in his home areas should be 100 per cent.

5 Year Old Injured by Shotgun Blast

Five year old Rita Powers is slowly improving after being shot in the stomach by a playmate with a 12-gauge shotgun at her home Sunday evening about 6:30.

The girl is in Springfield City hospital, where attendants reported her condition is critical. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Powers, Cedarville, R. R. 1.

Rita, her brother, Harold 11, and Richard and Joyce Chaplin, children of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Chaplin, Xenia, were playing in the yard of the Powers home.

They had started a game of "cowboys and Indians" when one of the children saw the shotgun on the back porch. Apparently thinking it wasn't loaded, he picked it up, aimed it at Rita and pulled the trigger.

The force of the blast struck her in the stomach, although her right arm was also shattered. The young Chaplin girl was apparently standing nearby because she suffered minor wounds in the arm. Richard Chaplin received a cut lip and a broken tooth in the incident. Sheriff's deputies would not say which of the children fired the gun.

The accident was investigated by the Greene County sheriff's department.

Rita was taken to the Springfield hospital in an ambulance from McMillan funeral home.

The other two injured children were treated at McClellan hospital, Xenia, and released.

The sheriff's office here was notified of the shooting through the Clark county sheriff's office, Springfield, after the hospital notified that office.

Deputies here said the Chaplin family had been visiting the Powers home most of the afternoon before the accident occurred.

Rev. H. F. Baker Talks at College Convocation

The Reverend Harry F. Baker, pastor of the Yellow Springs Methodist Church addressed the Cedarville College Convocation Wednesday, October 25 on the subject "We Live on a Thin Edge" between pain and pleasure.

Using as his text Deuteronomy 11:26-28 "Behold, I set before you this day a blessing and a curse; a blessing, if ye obey the commandments of the Lord your God, which I command you this day; and a curse, if ye will not obey the commandments of the Lord your God . . . The speaker remarked the Chinese would consider a crisis to be a combination of the two words danger and opportunity.

America must recognize this as a time of danger. Science reveals to mankind what God has hidden here for ages. The scientists made the atomic bomb, now they are concerned that the preachers of the world show men how to live with it.

Jesus Christ, the son of God gave the power to face the crisis, that is to walk the thin edge. Two things are required if men are to avail themselves of this power, first recognize that God is permanent, and second have a spiritual rebirth. Only 8% of our worries are about things we can do anything about. Spiritual life is the only thing that has any worth.

The speaker urged the students to "Say, Thy kingdom come and they will be done through me." I set before you a blessing and a curse and a blessing if you follow God and curse if you follow other gods.

Watch the Birdie, Please!

The seniors took a trip last Monday to Columbus to have their graduation pictures taken at the Montrose Studios.

We left school at about 9:00 a. m. after waiting several minutes for two tardy members. On arriving in Columbus, we walked five blocks to the studio. Inside the studio the girls were engrossed for a brief spell in the serious business of touching up unruly hair and last-minute efforts to "pretty" up their faces. For after all, hadn't they traveled many miles to have a reasonable facsimile of their smiling faces for future generations to view with admiration (if not with mixed emotions)?

After the pictures were taken, the remainder of the day was spent according to personal choice. Some went shopping, others went to movies, Lazarus' escalators, among other things, shared the spot-light.

We were instructed to return to the parking lot by 4 p. m. in order that the bus could leave for home promptly. For the most part, those who went shopping are ready to leave by 2:30; but those who attended movies arrived about a half-hour after scheduled time. We finally started the homeward journey and sighted Cedarville about six o'clock. After alighting, there was a grand scramble for telephones to call mothers or dads to come for their stray children.

Everyone was tired but happy, for the annual task of "breaking" the camera for the poor photographer was over.

"Come, Be My Bride"
Recently the Senior English Literature class made an interesting study of ballads and lyric poetry under the direction of Mrs. Chesnut.

Members of the class were requested to write an original poem after they had completed the reading and discussion of several selections in their textbooks. The modern versions of these poems proved to be surprisingly clever. The class was rather amazed to discover that they had at least one prospective poet in their midst. Mary Jo Duvall's poem was especially interesting, as she used the age-old subject of rejection of a lover's plea, in a present-day setting. The maiden's philosophy is summed up in the following couplet from her poem.

"Your promises sound very tempting to me,
But common sense tells me it just couldn't be."
All in all, this adventure in literature resulted in our English work being made a bit more realistic and interesting.

LAUSCHE FOR GOVERNOR COMMITTEE
JOHN E. HIGER, Sec.

MARRIED IN INDIANA

SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Mr. and Mrs. George Hubert Abels (Ruth Ellen Werling), who were married in the First Methodist Church, Decatur, Ind., Sunday afternoon, will establish their home in Fort Wayne, Ind., upon their return from a wedding trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Werling of Prole, Ind., are parents of the bride. The bridegroom, a former Greene Countyman, is the son of Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Abels, Spencer, O., formerly of Cedarville and Jamestown.

Dr. Abels, father of the bridegroom and one-time pastor of Cedarville and Jamestown Methodist Churches, officiated at the double ring service. Miss Gloria Abels, the bridegroom's sister, was organist.

For the wedding, the church altar was decorated with palms and baskets of chrysanthemums, flanked by white tapers in seven-branch candelabra.

Miss Lois Werling, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Misses Gloria Barr and Jeannie Firestone. They appeared in ballerina dresses, styled with fitted bodices and full net skirts. Miss Werling's gown was autumn green and the bridesmaids' dresses were sunset gold. They wore halos of braided satin to match their gowns and carried bouquets of roses.

Diane Arnold, a cousin of the bride, was ring bearer. She wore a rose taffeta frock and a miniature corsage of white roses and carried the rings on a heart-shaped pillow of satin and lace.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina-length gown of Chantilly lace, fashioned with a fitted bodice which had long sleeves tapering to points over her hands and a yoke outlined with an off-the-shoulder double net ruffle. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion tulle was held in place with a halo of net and lace and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses.

Mr. Gene Abels, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man and ushers were Donald and Gene Werling, the bride's brothers.

A reception for 150 guests was held at Werling home following the ceremony. Mrs. Werling received guests in a suit of wine-colored gingham, complemented with black accessories and a pink carnation corsage. Mrs. Abels chose a brown faille dress with matching accessories and her flowers were yellow chrysanthemums.

In Fort Wayne, where the couple will reside, Mr. Abels is production manager for the Lewis E. Wade Advertising Agency. He is a graduate of Cedarville High School and Ohio State University and served in the navy in World War II.

Guests present at the wedding from Greene County were Mr. and Mrs. Ross Wiseman of Cedarville and Mr. and Mrs. George Lewis of Jamestown.

A Tried and True
Public Servant

REPRESENTATIVE
7th OHIO
DISTRICT

Clarence J. Brown's fine record of public service as Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State and in the Congress commends him to every voter.

The need for courageous, able leadership in Washington makes his re-election during these trying times extremely vital. His experience and knowledge of government makes him a valuable public servant.

He has vigorously fought the spread of Communism and opposed socialist trends. He believes in a sound national defense and adequate equipment for our fighting men. He has sponsored and supported legislation for the benefit of veterans, education, agriculture and small business.

As a champion of economy and efficiency in public affairs he sponsored the bill which created the Hoover Commission, and, as a member of it, helped bring savings of nearly two thousand million dollars a year in the cost of Government.

Editorial

AN OPPORTUNITY

This Republican newspaper urges every member of the party to vote Nov. 7, for the party's candidates, and invites the members of the Democratic party to join us in the privilege. Not because Robert A. Taft is a Republican, but because he stands for statesmanship at its wisest and most fearless best, he must be returned to the United States senate. Clarence J. Brown represents Greene county in Congress, championing American principles zealously and opposing encroachments on our freedoms and liberties. Don Ebright is a high-principled, governmentally-trained young man who has earned the right to become governor of Ohio. Lowell Fess' very name suggests ability to serve in a legislative body and he has proved it emphatically. Our neighbor, Myron R. Fudge, will bring to the board of commissioners wisdom and experience that will be very helpful. To vote for these men is a privilege, an opportunity and an honor.

PRODUCTION

Winning battles has become a prescribed and accepted function of America. Not everybody here in Greene county stops to analyze how we do it. The supremacy of the USA lies in its production, is not due greater resources in raw materials. Russia has greater raw materials than we have. What makes us superior is our ability to co-operate as free men. Only free people can produce at a maximum. Regimented people can't do it. Any suppression of personal freedom—like, for instance, outsiders stepping in with millions of dollars to control an Ohio election—every such intrusion on our freedom must be stamped out as the greatest of our enemies.

DOLLARS

Our dollars are worth, at the best estimate, about 48 cents compared to their prewar purchasing power. Up and up and up go prices, and wages are getting four ups almost everywhere. Electric power, with its constantly widening fields of service, remains one of the few services that cost even less than it used to. The bargain price in patriotic buying of bonds proves not to have a bargain when the bondholder is paid off in 48-cent dollars. Winning battles in foreign lands is essential for world stabilization, but winning the battle of the dollar here at home is equally important.

CONNIE

At 87 baseball's grand old man whose unpronounceable name has been affectionately shortened to "Connie Mack" has stepped down from a position he has held for a half century—a record for the world to shoot at. Another veteran athletic figure—Coach Alonzo A. Stagg—dropped by the university of Chicago at 70, went west and grew up with the country, doing a similar longevity act. Such men are a greater inspiration to youth and a greater exemplification of American opportunity than military heroes and movie stars.

SAUCERS

All this commotion about flying saucers is not imagination. There are such things—"guided missiles" in military parlance. Excitement has become almost hysteria among people in some sections of the country. Many have seen these heavenly whizzers; some have taken pictures of them. There is no official denial of their existence. They are experimental. Information about them is quieting. So, if you see what you think is a flying saucer aflame and terrifying, remember it may be only an El Rop cigar, some smoker has tossed away!

NEW CARS

Though prices are higher, and will perhaps go higher yet, the public's interest in new automobiles does not lag. Less chrome, fewer blubbers, better performance are among the things promised. Here and there in the field a manufacturer stresses high gasoline mileage. Some day, the way things look, that will be a big selling point.

TIP TO TROOPS

The governor of Georgia, Herman Talmage, has a suit on his hands—to permit colored children to enter white schools. "Hummon" says: "There's not enough troops in USA to enforce a court order like that."

Neighboring Highland county churches publish the number attending Sunday school and the amount of collections, and every reader does his own dividing to see how much the average is.

Six-Inch Sermon

REV. R. H. HARPER

Growing Through Reading and Meditation.

Lesson for October 29: Acts 17: 10-12; Philippians 4: 8-9; 1 Timothy 4: 12-16; II Timothy 2: 15; 4:13.

Memory Selection: Philippians 4:8.

THE PEOPLE of Berea, in the synagogue there, heard Paul and Silas "with all readiness of mind," and they examined "the scriptures daily, whether these things were so." "The scriptures" were those of the Old Testament. And "Greek women of honorable estate and of men, not a few" believed.

The memory selection is a beautiful verse. It shows the power of thought to attain unto Christ in graces and virtues. Men tend to become like that on which they constantly look. As Ernest looked through a lifetime upon the Great Stone Face, he bore its image by and by. Christians who meditate upon good things will attain unto them in due time. And they who look ever to Christ will become like him.

Paul wrote Timothy to study the scriptures that he might be able to handle "bright" the word of truth. And Paul's own dependence upon the scriptures is indicated in his request that Timothy bring him the books, "especially the parchments." These parchments were doubtless those of the Old Testament and one or more of the Gospels which had been recently written.

Our lesson is designed to show that spiritual growth comes through reading and meditation upon great books.

A magazine heralds the information that living to be 120 years old is possible. Nothing is said about why—or what one!

All the information about deposits and savings being protected up to $10,000 is very interesting, but nothing is said about who has that much money.

Definition: Pedestrian—an example of what the Bible speaks of as "the quick or the dead."

Governor Warren says that Jimmie Roosevelt assumes for facts what is so far from reality that debating him with would be useless. It seems to run in the family.

Nobody can win always, and nobody always loses. Look at the Notre Dame and the Phillies.

It is only the good in people and in the world that can be depended on, not the evil.

Hudson has a new car, the "Hornet," but the promise is that nobody will get stung with one.

A TIP TO UNCLE JOE

A lesson from the "Mo," (Of tyranny a foe) It takes but a heave-ho And folks call you a dud To wriggle out and go.

Suggestion to Mr. and Mrs. Igo whose name we find in a neighboring newspaper. They could call their summer-camp home the Igo Igloo.

Charlie Custer came down from Michigan to visit his sister—Why Charlie! Shame on you.

CLARENCE J. BROWN Writes With a Buckeye In Congress

The capture of the Red capital of North Korea by American and South Korean troops last week spelled the virtual end of the Korean war—although there may be considerable guerrilla fighting ahead. In a little over one month's time the brilliant military leadership and strategy of Gen. MacArthur, coupled with the fighting ability of American troops, has turned apparent tragic defeat into a remarkable victory. Washington rumor has it that as soon as the situation in Korea becomes stable most of the combat-hardened American troops there will be transferred to Europe.

With complete victory in Korea at hand, the international planners in the Truman administration are now readying a program for reconstruction and rebuilding of all Korea to be submitted to congress soon after it reconvenes. Two hundred and fifty million dollars a year for ten years is said to be the estimated cost to American taxpayers of the Korean reconstruction plans now in preparation.

The situation in Indo-China is giving high Washington officials considerable concern. In the last three or four weeks 150 thousand or more French troops have been forced to drop back and surrender many strategic positions to

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLD TIMERS

From B. L. of Chicago: I remember when father used to pile the family into the automobile and take "long" drives out into the country to sights of interest each Sunday.

From Mrs. Ella Bates of Salina, Kan.: I remember the days of the horseless carriage, later called the "gas buggy." Some of the earliest makes of cars were the Mier, Mitchell, Brush, Rambler, Gleason, Stevens-Duryes, Orient Buckard. These were popular in the first decade of the century. Then came the Stoddard-Dayton, Mercedes Roadster, National, Overland, the Flanders Twenty, the Empira. In the 1920s there were such makes as the R. V. Knight, the Franklin, the Gardner and the Maxwell.

"HOW TO WIN FRIENDS and INFLUENCE PEOPLE" Author of

Maybe You Haven't Lived

HERE'S A TOUCHING STORY from A. R. Murfotan, New Plymouth, New Zealand. It is the kind of story that makes me want to make this column better and better. You will know why as you read. I quote Mr. Murfotan:

"If anyone had asked me a few weeks ago, what sort of a man I was, the reply probably would have run something like this: 'I am a normal sort of a chap who makes the best of things, and though my wife and I have our differences, we have managed to stick together for nearly 30 years.'"

"Yes, that is what I would have said a few weeks ago, but that is not what I say now. I thought I was trying to make the best of things, but it is as if I were doing so with my eyes closed. After serving in the last war, I managed to carry on at my pre-war occupation for two years, then I was sent to the hospital with acute coronary thrombosis. It was a bad show and when I left the hospital I was told I'd never work again. From the past two wars, for I served in both, I have collected disabilities amounting to 145 per cent."

"Then I read some of your columns and learned how other men suffered and how they pulled through, under a great variety of difficulties, and I realized that for all these years I haven't been living at all. I was either living in the past, worrying over lost opportunities, or else wondering and worrying about what the future held for me. I certainly had not lived."

"But now I have begun to live. I sleep like a log. One morning when my wife brought my breakfast to bed, I realized that she was virtually a stranger to me; that for nearly 30 years I had taken her for granted. Suddenly I decided that I was going to make her acquaintance, that what time remains for us to be together, is going to be real. There is only 'today' and every day is going to count."

"I once wrote of my experiences and called it 'And Things Came Right.' I now see that things never would have come right if I had continued to face them as I had been doing. But things are started right now."

If Mr. Murfotan has made even one of you readers know the value of living for the day, of looking yourself over and deciding to live not only for yourself but for others, what he has written will be so valuable that one couldn't afford the space in this paper to tell about it.

YOUR MITE TO FREEDOM'S FIGHT

THOSE OF US WHO FIGHT FOR FREEDOM AND A REAL PEACE

THE COMMUNIST FORCES IN NORTH INDIA - CHINA. THE UNITED STATES HAS BEEN FURNISHING THE FRENCH GOVERNMENT WITH FINANCES AND MUCH OF THE MILITARY EQUIPMENT USED IN THE CONFLICT IN INDIA-CHINA.

President Truman's hour and a half conference with Gen. MacArthur, and the two hour conference of presidential aides with MacArthur's staff and far east American diplomatic representatives, held on historic Wake Island last week, has most news observers, and Washington officials generally, somewhat puzzled. Seemingly, from the president's San Francisco speech, no new American policy for the far Pacific was agreed upon—or if so, was not announced. Many are asking why the president made the long trip to Wake Island.

The president has again announced that an early victory in Korea will not mean any easing of the U. S. rearmament program. Instead there will be a step-up in military production, with higher taxes and more controls on the way. Conscription of military manpower under selective service, and the calling of reserves and national guard units, will continue unabated, according to Washington announcements.

In the past ten days we have received a number of unsigned or anonymous letters, which, of course, can not be answered directly or personally, from writers seemingly blaming congress for the drafting of farm boys, and demanding that something be done about it. In order to give our anonymous correspondents an answer to their letters we use this column to inform them the selective service act specifically authorizes the president, through the selective service director, to make one will represent the people of the United States.

Throughout my service in Congress, I have worked for the interests of the industrial workers, the white collar worker, the farmers, the businessmen and others whose prosperity is essential for the general welfare of this state.

I have often antagonized special groups because they have sometimes asked for special consideration contrary to the general law. I have never seen before such a barefaced attempt to dominate Congress as is now shown by the Labor campaign.

In this campaign, the technique used by the Political Action Committee of the C.I.O. is strictly the Communist technique. It is based on the distribution of irresponsible pamphlets and the spreading of lies loud enough and long enough on the theory that, if such course is pursued, people will come to believe them.

I do not know whether or not the P.A.C. is being guided by the Communists today. Future Congressional investigations will no doubt determine that question. Such investigations, hearings, trials and public confessions have proven that the P.A.C. was conceived in Communism, had Communist midwives assisting at its birth, and was carefully nurtured in its formative period by Communist teachers.

John L. Lewis and Sidney Hillman were the masterminds who created the C.I.O. in 1937. Lewis left the C.I.O. in 1940, but said in 1944:

"When I was organizing the C.I.O. we picked up a lot of Communists in one unit after another as we grew—including Harry Bridges, but if I had not resigned the chairmanship and left the C.I.O. in 1940, I can tell you the Communists would have been weeded out of the C.I.O. long before now."

Philip Murray is today the prisoner of the Communists in his own Union. The House Committee on Un-American Activities has reported that 141 individuals were described as comprising the governing body of the National Citizens Political Action Committee. The House Committee on Un-American Activities Report of 1944 states the point that 80 per cent of these 141 individuals were affiliated with Communists from the time they constituted the nucleus of the Communist front movement in the United States.

In 1947 the American Labor League for Political Education less than five months after the passage of the Smith Law. In politics L.L.P.E. and P.A.C. are solidly allied, with the P.A.C. setting the cards as the Labor League and more experienced party workers.

The P.A.C. and labor affiliates want a labor government. By their own admission they are within five years of a fifteen year controlling Congress. The right to know, Political Action Committee, which is trying to get the Democratic Party out of the Congress of the United States. If they obtain such a government, they will have a labor government, and very little of the American people's freedom.

WASHINGTON REPORT

BY SENATOR ROBERT A. TAFT

THE present campaign in Ohio is unique in my experience. The Democratic party is almost completely inactive. Governor Lausche is conducting an individual campaign. The campaign against the Republican congressmen and myself is being waged by the Political Action Committee of the C.I.O. out of its Washington office. Ohio is being flooded with literature and propaganda prepared months ahead in Washington, attempting to persuade the people of Ohio that they must eliminate some congressmen who have served their interests for years and replace them with stooges who will take orders of the labor union bosses.

Of course, if this kind of a campaign succeeds, we will no longer have a representative government in the United States. Each congressman will represent the strongest pressure group in his district, and the selective service director, to make one will represent the people of the United States.

Successful Parenthood

BY MRS. CATHERINE CONRAD EDWARDS Associate Editor, Parents' Magazine

"BUT, JOHNNY, you walked soon as the neighbor's child. There are ways, however, in which you can help a child get ready to walk. Giving him plenty of opportunity to kick from the day he is born is following nature's way of making strong feet and legs. Never let the baby wear tight stockings. Do not tuck the blankets tightly around the baby's legs. When the child starts to creep don't try to hurry him through this necessary stage because he gets himself dirty. Creeping is nature's way of strengthening the abdominal muscles. The opposite concern is wise when the child learns to stand—that is, watch that he does not overdo this new performance for his feet may not yet be ready to carry the weight of his body."

Providing the child with incentive for walking is the parents' responsibility. If he is confined hour after hour in a small space, boredom alone would delay, his getting about by himself. If you come every time he sees something he wants and hand it to him with a smile how is he to know, or care, that there is a way of helping himself?

I know one enchanting child of 12 months whose parents are worried because she doesn't bestir herself as her more active cousin does. But little Anne is enthralled by people—her friendly response, her charming acceptance of your attention are warm and lovely characteristics. Naturally, people come to her. Now if it were things that attracted Anne more, she'd be crawling or toddling about to get them. So don't forget that a child's learning of new skills depends as much on his interest as on his native ability.
